

Next Gen Expo

Young Ch@amber

GO

A one day exposition of professional development for everyone interested in our Next Generation

Never before in history have four generations been together in the workforce. This melting pot of differing generational work styles has translated to a quandary of mismanagement and misunderstood communications that are creating unnecessary generational divide and are not only costing businesses big bucks, but could also seriously impact the future growth and prosperity of our region.

The Next Gen Expo is an expositional day of learning, development, insight and networking for you, your team, your boss and your colleagues.

Join us and discover the answers to this generational quandary!
